Contemporary Art with a Southern Accent

Dolan Geiman is a nationally recognized mixed media artist creating original paintings, collages, constructions, and limited-edition reproductions. Produced from salvaged wood, found objects, and other recycled materials, Geiman's eco-friendly artwork emerges from a folk art tradition infused with a contemporary, urban style.

Originally from Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, Geiman currently lives and works in Chicago along with wife and business partner Ali Marie. Popular and reoccurring motifs in Geiman's artwork include birds, woodland creatures, music, and Americana, creating an artwork that introduces a modern aesthetic while remaining true to its rustic roots.
